

On a mathematical model of cancer stem cells

José Ignacio Tello ¹

We present a simple mathematical model of tumor growth based on cancer stem cells. The model consists of a system of four equations of hyperbolic type to describe the evolution of different subpopulations of cells: cancer stem cells, progenitor cells, differentiated cells and dead cells. A fifth equation describes the evolution of the moving boundary. Under some technical restrictions in the parameters we study the stability of the steady states.

¹Depto. de Matemática Aplicada, E.U. de Informática, Univ. Politécnica de Madrid, e-mail: jtello@eui.upm.es